

Police and _____

Crime Control _____

in Jamaica _____

Police and

Crime Control

in Jamaica

Problems of Reforming
Ex-Colonial Constabularies

Anthony Harriott

The University of the West Indies Press
1A Aqueduct Flats Mona
Kingston 7 Jamaica W I

© 2000 by Anthony Harriott
All rights reserved. Published 2000
Printed in the USA
ISBN 976-640-076-8

04 03 02 01 00 5 4 3 2 1

CATALOGUING IN PUBLICATION DATA

Harriott, Anthony
Police and crime control in Jamaica : problems of reforming ex-colonial constabularies /
Anthony Harriott.

p. cm.
Includes biographical references.
ISBN 976-640-076-8

1. Jamaica Constabulary Force. 2. Police –
Surveillance operations – Jamaica. 3. Crime prevention – Jamaica. 4. Police corruption – Jamaica. 5. Police administration – Jamaica.
I. Title.
HV8173.A2 H38 2000 363.206'8 dc-20

Set in 10/13 Atlantix SSi x 26 text and Myriad Roman display
Book design by Karen L. Collins
Cover design by Robert Harris
Cover art: drawing by Safi Harriott, depicting a Utopia where the police are able to arrest criminals by the force of their authority.

For Safi
and a safer more just society

Contents

Tables	ix
Figures	x
Acknowledgments	xi
Abbreviations	xiii
Introduction	xv

Conceptual Frame xxi; Method xxxi; Organization of the Study xxxiii

Section I – Context

1 – The Changing Structure of Crime in Jamaica	3
Structure of Crime 9; Patterns of Violent Crime 12; Changes in the Social Organization of Criminals 14; The Embeddedness of Criminality 20; Conclusion 24
2 – Police Organization	26
Police Ineffectiveness 28; Attitudes to the Organizational Principles of the Traditional Model of Policing 41; Principles on which the Security Model of Policing is Based 42; Conclusion 43

Section II – The Problems

3 – Rank and Money in the Bank: Corruption in the JCF	47
Typology of Corruption 48; Institutionalized Corruption 55; Organization 61; Level of Tolerance and Justificatory Arguments 64; Sources of Corruption 67; Difficulties in Treating Corruption 69; Conclusion 71
4 – The Somnolent yet Aggressive Watchman: The JCF’s Style of Work	72
Work Avoidance 74; Paramilitarism 76; Illustrations of Style 85; Conclusion 92

5 – Police and Community: Policing the Inner City	93
The Research Communities 94; The Doctrine of Survivalism 100; Policing the Community 102; Defensive Strategies Adopted against the Police 107; Community Policing: The Case of Alexanderville 112; Conclusion 118

Section III – The Reforms

6 – Attempts at Reform	121
The Historical Background 122; Sources of the Reforms 125; Improving Credibility and Accountability 126; Restoring Discipline and Reducing Corruption 127; Respect for the Law and Civil Liberties 130; Improving Capability 132; Criticisms of the Professional Reform Model 134; Conclusion 136
7 – Attitudes to Reform	137
Attitudes to the Treatment of Crime 138; Attitude to Citizens' Rights 140; Attitude to Law Enforcement 142; Police Style 143; Attitude to Reform 147; Ideological Fragmentation 149; Direction and Commitment to Reform 155; The Power Configuration of the Coalitions for and against Change 156; Conclusion 159
8 – Resistance to Reform	160
Reliance on Coercive Power 161; The Strategy and Tactics of Resistance 164; The Shift in Favour of the Defensive Coalition 173; Conclusion 180
9 – Conclusion	182
The Limits of Reform 183; Policy Options 184
Appendix	193
Notes	201
Bibliography	208
Index	219

Tables

1.1	The Structure of Crime	9
1.2	Reported Property Crimes versus Violent Crimes 1977–96	11
1.3	Rates and Structure of Violent Crimes 1977–96	12
1.4	Deportations from the USA 1987–94	20
2.1	Sociodemographic Profile of the JCF by Rank	34
2.2	Proportion of Police in Different Ranks	37
3.1	Police Criminality, Corruption and Misconduct 1994	58
3.2	Frequency of Police Corruption and Criminality 1988–94	59
3.3	Pervasiveness and Permissiveness of Police Corruption by Function	63
3.4	Attitudes to Corruption by Rank	67
4.1	Police Killings 1976–96	82
5.1	Crime Rates for Research Communities 1993	100
7.1	Factor Matrix – Attitudes to Sources of Crime	139
7.2	Attitude to Citizens’ Rights	141
7.3	Attitude to Law Enforcement	143
7.4	Attitudes to Style by Rank and Function	146
7.5	Factor Pattern Matrix of Attitudes to Police Style	147
7.6	Principal Components and their Variance	150
7.7	Varimax Rotated Factor Matrix	151
7.8	Communality of Variables (Final Statistics)	153
7.9	Direction of Reforms	157
7.10	Group Means on Attitude to Reform for Selected Independent Variables	158
8.1	Attitudes to Personnel Changes	165
8.2	Evaluation of Outcomes of the Reform Process 1994	175
8.3	Correlation Matrix of Eight Performance Items	175
8.4	Opposition on Control Items by Rank	176

Figures

2.1 Proportion of Constables on Patrol Duties	37
5.1 Schema of Police-Citizens Relations	113

Acknowledgments

This work was hardly possible without the assistance and encouragement of colleagues and friends and, of course, the cooperation of many police officers who were the research subjects of the project. I wish to thank former Commissioner of Police Colonel Trevor MacMillan for readily approving the project and giving me the opportunity to present my ideas to audiences of police officers at the Staff College of the Force, and members of the other ranks at the Police Academy. I must also thank the present commissioner of police, Mr Francis Forbes, who has afforded me the opportunity (immediately on the conclusion of this study) to more carefully think through some of the policy implications of this study by recruiting me to participate in the development of a strategic plan for reforming the Jamaica Constabulary Force. The interaction with the members of the Force in many different work settings – from discussions at the Staff College to exchanges with the leadership of the Force on immediate problems of policing – has contributed to my understanding of the field and that institution.

I owe a special debt of gratitude to Dr Donald Robotham for his encouragement of this work from its inception and for prodding me to apply to the University of the West Indies (UWI) Foundation Endowment Fund for the research grant that allowed me to complete the study, and later for critically reading the draft report. I owe a handsome debt of gratitude to him for his insightful and incisive comments. I thank the foundation for allowing me to benefit from their generosity and the Institute of Social and Economic Research (ISER) staff, especially Ms Judith Tavares who administered the project. The report on this research project should have been submitted in the summer of 1996, but instead it was not completed until 1997. The ISER was very understanding and supporting.

I must express my sincere appreciation to my reviewers for their kind remarks and useful critical comments and suggestions. I am indeed grateful to my colleagues at the UWI, Professor Rupert Lewis and Dr Tony Bagues for the collegial spirit displayed in finding the time to comment on a lengthy monograph somewhat beyond their immediate field of interest. Mr Richard Quarless and Dr Sunday Iyare made useful comments on chapter 6. Professor Basil Wilson and other members of the faculty at the John Jay College of Criminal Justice were kind enough to read the manuscript and I thank them for their supportive and generous remarks. Thanks also to Karen Collins and the staff of the UWI Press, and to Mr Lloyd Waller, who assisted with aspects of its presentation. I hope that all this effort was worthwhile.

Abbreviations

ACR	Attitudes to citizens' rights
ALE	Attitudes to law enforcement
APS	Attitudes to police style (style of policing)
ARJCF	Attitudes to reforming the JCF
ASC	Attitudes to the sources of crime
ASP	Assistant superintendent of police
CBP	Community-based policing
CIB	Criminal Investigations Bureau
CJS	Criminal justice system
CP	Commissioner of police
CPO	Community police officer
DC	District constable
DCP	Deputy commissioner of police
DEA	Drug Enforcement Administration
DSP	Deputy superintendent of police
ESS	Economic and Social Survey
GDP	Gross domestic product
IMF	International Monetary Fund
ISCF	Island Special Constabulary Force
ISER	Institute of Social and Economic Research (at UWI)
JCF	Jamaica Constabulary Force
JCFHQ	Jamaica Constabulary Force Headquarters
JDF	Jamaica Defence Force
JLP	Jamaica Labour Party
KMA	Kingston Metropolitan Area
KMO	Kaiser-Meyer-Olkin
KRC	Kingston Restoration Company
NCO	Noncommissioned officer
NDM	National Democratic Movement
NIC	Newly industrialized country
PACE	Police and Criminal Evidence Act (UK)

PNP	People's National Party
PSC	Police Services Commission
REM	Report on Election Malpractices General Elections (JLP)
RIC	Royal Irish Constabulary
RPD	Revenue Protection Division
SACTF	Special Anti-Crime Task Force
SAP	Structural Adjustment Programme
SF	Security forces
SSP	Senior superintendent of police
STATIN	Statistical Institute of Jamaica
UNDP	United Nations Development Program
UNIA	Universal Negro Improvement Association
UWI	University of the West Indies